

Tuesday Evening, April 29, 1884.

Blaine is now encroaching Harrington and Robeson. Won't Kefler equal?

The Democratic Conventions of West Virginia and Oregon have declared for the old ticket.

THREE of the four New York delegations-large to the Republican national convention are unqualified free traders.

RHODE ISLAND has gone Republican again. Of course. Poor men don't vote there.

OHIO is not for Blaine, notwithstanding the noise made about him. John Sherman is on deck.

THE women manufacturers find the tariff on wool too high for their business, and many of them are now shouting for "tariff reform."

THE New York legislature has passed and the Governor signed a bill to prohibit the manufacture of sheet butter so long as the Government is directed by a party which is under the direction of false doctrines and untrained by engineers of ordinary interests in the perspective of existing abuses."

A FAVORABLE review of some of Blaine's supporters is to parallel him as Secretary of State and to argue that, as the last elected Republican President chose him for his chief cabinet officer, this is good reason why his party should take him for president. "The Lancastrian Intelligencer" thinks the reasoning important. As the principal adviser Mr. Blaine had his present into most of the trouble. Mr. Blaine was an amiable man, disposed to please at the expense of the party to which he belonged.

It will require 411 votes to nominate in the Republican National Convention. Of these the south will furnish 300 in the convention, but not one in the electoral college. The South is a large factor in controlling the Republican nomination.

THE Maine Senators, Messrs. Hale and Frye, are not actively urging the nomination of Mr. Blaine—because they do not regard it as policy at the present time.

MARIO'S party in Virginia has been officially recognized as the Simon pure Republican organization. Shadys of Simeon and Lincoln, whether the "grand old party" drifting?

JOHN STEWART announces himself "for Blaine by a large majority," which causes "Uncle Jake" Ziegler to say: "If he does not evince more stability in his friendship for Blaine than he did as a reformer in the last Legislature, there is no telling into whose hands he may fall before the Convention finishes its work. The Senator himself is a much more difficult problem to solve than the Presidential question."

ATTORNEY GENERAL BREWSTER gives it out that he is "determined to find the missing witness Walsh, who wanted to testify in the Kellogg case," Walsh could have been found long ago and this is only a notice to him to keep out of the road.

ANOTHER FIRE in SULLIVAN was started by incendiaries on Sunday evening, and it destroyed two blocks of buildings, five horses, etc. This is the third attempt to burn the town. The fourth.

LOUISIANA election Democratic governor at 43,000 majority, New Orleans giving 15,000. All the constitutional amendments are carried. A hand-sound start for 1884.

THE Democrats the other day carried Marion county, Indiana, in which the city of Indianapolis is situated, for the first time on the eve of a Presidential election in 32 years, and the Presidential papers had not heard this news.

THE New York "Herald" says bluntly: "Blaine will not be nominated at all."

JAMES G. BLAINE of the State of Maine has a home in Pennsylvania and, Mr. Quay, Cooper and Magee, James G. had better keep his weather eye on that home.—"Witteman Dom."

IT is getting more and more the fashion to have convoked in Congress in this State pronounced issue by experts, but as they get more and more the same, the fashion will probably change. In sending the opinions better results, it is then when the "Liberator" thinks about it.

THE friends of Blaine complain that the sale of his book is seriously hampered because it contains a portrait of Rutherford B. Hayes. The New York "Scribner" suggests that the evil might be remedied if the engraving is made from the picture of Mr. Hayes drawn by Mr. Charles Francis Adams on which was written in bold letters across the forehead "Fraud First, Triumphant in American History." Mr. Blaine and his publishers should adopt this suggestion for the double purpose of securing the largest percentage and preserving the accuracy of history.

THE York "Age" has given up hope of ever seeing the "Liberator" question set to the satisfaction of every local interest.

A VOTE in Oregon Sunday caused much alarm about Oregon and Zenia, with less of alarm. At Astoria four people were killed, and the wounded are estimated at one hundred.

THE Rutland, Vt., "Herald," Republican, says: "Mr. Blaine will not, in our opinion, be nominated, though he will probably lead in Chicago. He is sure to be beaten if he fails to get a majority."

JENKIN JONES observes: "There never was a time when dress counts so little in the estimate of character as now. It is getting to be pretty well understood that a woman who is celebrated for her clothes is known for nothing else."

MANY people are now in the impression that Congress will provide for the redemption of trade dollars, and that the new currency can be had at cost. This is a mistake. The House of Representatives has passed a bill for that purpose, but before it becomes a law, must pass the Senate and receive the sanction of the President.

THE York "Age" has given up hope of ever seeing the "Liberator" question set to the satisfaction of every local interest.

A VOTE in Oregon Sunday caused much alarm about Oregon and Zenia, with less of alarm. At Astoria four people were killed, and the wounded are estimated at one hundred.

THE Rutland, Vt., "Herald," Republican, says: "Mr. Blaine will not, in our opinion, be nominated, though he will probably lead in Chicago. He is sure to be beaten if he fails to get a majority."

GOV. PATTON'S sudden appearance in the obscurity of which he had been up to now, is a bit of a mystery, but the author of the "Liberator" suggests that the evil might be remedied if the engraving is made from the picture of Mr. Hayes drawn by Mr. Charles Francis Adams on which was written in bold letters across the forehead "Fraud First, Triumphant in American History." Mr. Blaine and his publishers should adopt this suggestion for the double purpose of securing the largest percentage and preserving the accuracy of history.

THE friends of Blaine complain that the sale of his book is seriously hampered because it contains a portrait of Rutherford B. Hayes. The New York "Scribner" suggests that the evil might be remedied if the engraving is made from the picture of Mr. Hayes drawn by Mr. Charles Francis Adams on which was written in bold letters across the forehead "Fraud First, Triumphant in American History." Mr. Blaine and his publishers should adopt this suggestion for the double purpose of securing the largest percentage and preserving the accuracy of history.

THE York "Age" has given up hope of ever seeing the "Liberator" question set to the satisfaction of every local interest.

A VOTE in Oregon Sunday caused much alarm about Oregon and Zenia, with less of alarm. At Astoria four people were killed, and the wounded are estimated at one hundred.

THE Rutland, Vt., "Herald," Republican, says: "Mr. Blaine will not, in our opinion, be nominated, though he will probably lead in Chicago. He is sure to be beaten if he fails to get a majority."

GOV. PATTON'S sudden appearance in the obscurity of which he had been up to now, is a bit of a mystery, but the author of the "Liberator" suggests that the evil might be remedied if the engraving is made from the picture of Mr. Hayes drawn by Mr. Charles Francis Adams on which was written in bold letters across the forehead "Fraud First, Triumphant in American History." Mr. Blaine and his publishers should adopt this suggestion for the double purpose of securing the largest percentage and preserving the accuracy of history.

THE York "Age" has given up hope of ever seeing the "Liberator" question set to the satisfaction of every local interest.

A VOTE in Oregon Sunday caused much alarm about Oregon and Zenia, with less of alarm. At Astoria four people were killed, and the wounded are estimated at one hundred.

THE Rutland, Vt., "Herald," Republican, says: "Mr. Blaine will not, in our opinion, be nominated, though he will probably lead in Chicago. He is sure to be beaten if he fails to get a majority."

GOV. PATTON'S sudden appearance in the obscurity of which he had been up to now, is a bit of a mystery, but the author of the "Liberator" suggests that the evil might be remedied if the engraving is made from the picture of Mr. Hayes drawn by Mr. Charles Francis Adams on which was written in bold letters across the forehead "Fraud First, Triumphant in American History." Mr. Blaine and his publishers should adopt this suggestion for the double purpose of securing the largest percentage and preserving the accuracy of history.

THE York "Age" has given up hope of ever seeing the "Liberator" question set to the satisfaction of every local interest.

A VOTE in Oregon Sunday caused much alarm about Oregon and Zenia, with less of alarm. At Astoria four people were killed, and the wounded are estimated at one hundred.

THE Rutland, Vt., "Herald," Republican, says: "Mr. Blaine will not, in our opinion, be nominated, though he will probably lead in Chicago. He is sure to be beaten if he fails to get a majority."

GOV. PATTON'S sudden appearance in the obscurity of which he had been up to now, is a bit of a mystery, but the author of the "Liberator" suggests that the evil might be remedied if the engraving is made from the picture of Mr. Hayes drawn by Mr. Charles Francis Adams on which was written in bold letters across the forehead "Fraud First, Triumphant in American History." Mr. Blaine and his publishers should adopt this suggestion for the double purpose of securing the largest percentage and preserving the accuracy of history.

THE York "Age" has given up hope of ever seeing the "Liberator" question set to the satisfaction of every local interest.

A VOTE in Oregon Sunday caused much alarm about Oregon and Zenia, with less of alarm. At Astoria four people were killed, and the wounded are estimated at one hundred.

THE Rutland, Vt., "Herald," Republican, says: "Mr. Blaine will not, in our opinion, be nominated, though he will probably lead in Chicago. He is sure to be beaten if he fails to get a majority."

"The government itself has become a menacing factor in elections. As long ago as 1874 I expressed the opinion that the party which had the largest majority of the votes must maintain its majority at the election."

These are the words of a sagacious, but seeing statesman, the says the New York "World." Before the election of 1876 Mr. Tilden foresaw that the Government, "as a menacing factor in elections," would use its "myriads of officeholders," its concentrated over-powerful and wealthy corporations, its corruption fund, "to overrule the will of the people by fraud in the ballot box, in the purchase of votes."

These men would be found on the skinning line of any grand movement, actual or potential.

They knew, however, that the last chance of a third term for Grant was to be gained at Chicago, four years ago next June, by the refusal of Mr. Blaine to re-inforce the 300, even after his own prospects had become obviously hopeless.

So now we hear that Senator Robeson has come out for Blaine, and that he now leads a Blaine delegation from New Jersey. We hear, also, that the most notorious and odious of all the members of the party is under the influence of Blaine, and that he has come to buy or bully President Arthur into appointing George F. Fisher as United States District Judge for the Southern District of New York.

If these are true, then the party is to be blamed for the defeat of the 300, and the election of Grant.

THE New York legislature has passed and the Governor signed a bill to prohibit the manufacture of sheet butter so long as the penalty of $100 to $300.

THE Franklin county centennial celebration will occur September 4th, every township has a committee on the subject, and the occasion is likely to reflect credit upon our neighbors across the hill. The best we can do is to invite for them all.

THE delegates to the Republican National Convention from the District of Columbia are charged under oath with having bought their appointments with money down. What is the "great need" party?" coming to?

A FAVORABLE review of some of Blaine's supporters is to parallel him as Secretary of State and to argue that, as the last elected Republican President chose him for his chief cabinet officer, this is good reason why his party should take him for president. "The Lancastrian Intelligencer" thinks the reasoning important.

As the principal adviser Mr. Blaine had his present into most of the trouble.

Mr. Blaine's boss and his helpers would not tolerate such suggestions as Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

The enemies of Mr. Blaine can wish him no worse fortune than to have his enemies with unforgiven injury.

Mr. Garfield's less crafty and venient course induced him to take, and he was an ex-President.

Mr. Blaine's Mistake.—If there were not truth in the prophecies which puts Gen. Grant in the field again as a candidate for the Republican nomination, the sudden resumption of political activity by Blaine in New Jersey and by Dick Harrington in Delaware would be natural enough. These men would be found on the skinning line of any grand movement, actual or potential.

They knew, however, that the last chance of a third term for Grant was to be gained at Chicago, four years ago next June, by the refusal of Mr. Blaine to re-inforce the 300, even after his own prospects had become obviously hopeless.

So now we hear that Senator Robeson has come out for Blaine, and that he now leads a Blaine delegation from New Jersey. We hear, also, that the most notorious and odious of all the members of the party is under the influence of Blaine, and that he has come to buy or bully President Arthur into appointing George F. Fisher as United States District Judge for the Southern District of New York.

If these are true, then the party is to be blamed for the defeat of the 300, and the election of Grant.

